MRS. MAUDE W. KING DIES.

Prominent Washington Woman
Buried at Libertytown, Md.

Mrs. Maude Welsh King, prominent Washington social director, died Saturday at her home, 1748 Columbia road. The body was taken to Libertytown, Frederick county, Md., today, where funeral services were held this afternoon at St. Peter's Catholic Church. Interment will be made in the family burying ground at Libertytown.

Mrs. King was born in Libertytown. Her ancestors settled in Maryland when it was a British colony. On the paternal side of the family she was a direct descendant of Admiral Sir John Norris, a famous English naval officer. Her cousin, Col. Basil Norris, was President Grant's private physician when the general occupied the White House. She was a member of the Lineal Society of the Veterans of the Spanish-American War, and took an active part in the work at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, this city.

Mrs. King's husband, Joseph Ligon King, was formerly commander of Henry W. Lawton Camp, Spanish War Veterans, and was for some time connected with the office of auditor for the War Department. During the war he was fourteen months in Paris for the War Department.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. King is survived by a daughter, Mary A. Norris King.

BODY ON WAY HERE.

Remains of Jane A. Delano to Be Interred at Arlington Cemetery.

The body of Jane A. Delano, late director of the nurse corps of the American Red Cross, who died in Europe, is expected to arrive in Washington today. Tribute to the memory of Miss Delano will be made by the War Department and the Red Cross.

The remains were accompanied from France by Miss Clara D. Noyes, Miss Delano's successor. A Red Cross guard of honor is accompanying the body from New York.

Interment will be made at Arlington national cemetery.

DR. L. C. BOSHER DEAD.

RICHMOND, Va., September 13.—Dr. Lewis Crenshaw Bosher, one of the first rank of surgeons in Virginia, died last night at his residence. He had arisen from the dinner table after a hearty meal and apparently had been in the best of health. Death was attributed to a heart lesion. He was in his sixty-first year.

UNION MAY URGE
MINERS TO RETURN
AT MEETING TODAY

Reopening of Wage Contract
Hoped for After Men
Go Back.

HAZLETON, Pa., September 13.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America at its meeting here today is expected to recommend the return to work of the miners now on "vacation" and the fulfillment of the contract, recently signed, embodying the terms handed down in the award of the anthracite mine commission. Mine union officials would make no comment on the possible action of the committee. In unofficial circles, however, it is believed that it was planned to appeal to the miners to return to work, following which further effort would be made to have the wage contract reopened as was done during the war, when the 1912 contract was amended several times to meet the advancing cost of living.

Look for Stormy Season.

Indications point to a stormy committee session. Leaders in districts seven and nine, United Mine Workers, have taken the position that the miners' cause has been injured by the action of the "vacation" committee. They sent a telegram to President Wilson declaring that unless he reopened the wage question they would refrain from work.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., September 13.—Back of the reported plan to resume operations, it was said by some leaders of the "vacation" committee, officials to prevail upon President Wilson to reopen the wage case.

It is believed by them that if all men return and show a willingness to abide by their written contract, they will have the chance that the President will look upon such action other than a defiance of the government and consent to bring the scale committee, operators and miners into a new conference.

In Pittston tonight a meeting will be held to determine whether the strike of 8,000 employees of the Pennsylvania Coal company begun July 15 against the contract system should be brought to an end.

Men Await Word.

There was little change in the general mining situation according to early reports, the men on "vacation" having a disposition to await the outcome of today's meeting of the union scale committee.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., September 13.—While Gov. Kilby's coal commission was preparing a schedule for resumption of its hearings tomorrow, operators and union leaders today were eagerly watching developments of the strike that has paralyzed the Alabama field.

Both sides admitted the present week will give a fair indication as to the effect and possible outcome of the struggle.

Mass meetings were held throughout the strike districts yesterday. No disorder was reported.

CLUB IS ESTABLISHED.

Fredericksburg Sportsmen Obtain
Travis Mill Property.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., September 13 (Special).—A party of fifteen sportsmen of this city has purchased the F. M. Travis mill property containing sixty-eight acres, thirty of which are covered by a pond. The improvements on the property include a grist mill and miller's house. Travis pond is one of the largest and best fishing ponds in Caroline county. Its waters abound with large-mouth bass, black bass and silver perch. It has been a mecca of fishermen in this section for many years.

The property was purchased solely as a place of recreation and sport, and not as an investment. A large clubhouse with modern improvements will be arranged for the comfort of the owners and their families.

The purchasers are Messrs. W. W. Rutan, John W. Allison, A. W. Embrey, C. O'Connor, Goodrick, J. B. Woody, Silas Truitt, W. H. Hiebel, of the F. M. Travis, Emmett Colbert and William D. Carter.

SEIZES OIL FOR NAVY.

MARTINEZ, Calif., September 13.—Two thousand barrels of fuel oil were seized for the Navy today by Capt. E. M. Beach, commandant at San Pedro Island. The oil was the property of the Shell Oil Company, to whose plant the captain went in Navy yacht with fifty marines to make the seizure. Navy Department and the company have failed to agree on the price.

According to a statement given out at the plant, the marines broke locks which the company had placed on its pipeline outlet and loaded the oil onto a barge. The company offered no resistance.

A. M. WILSON, PATENT
ATTORNEY, DIES AT HOME

Funeral Services to Be Held at His
Late Residence Tomorrow,
With Masonic Honors.

Alfred M. Wilson, patent attorney of this city, died yesterday morning at 1 o'clock at his home, 16 Chestnut street, Takoma Park, D. C. He had been ill for two months.

Mr. Wilson was born in Bruceton, Pa., November 3, 1868. He engaged in the practice of patent law with H. C. Everett in Pittsburgh until twenty-five years ago, when he came to Washington in company with Mr. Everett. Ten years ago he began to practice in his own name.

He was affiliated with the Masonic fraternity as a member of Hiram Lodge, Hiram Chapter, Columbia Commandery. He was a noble in the Ancient Order of the Mystic Shrine. He also was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and other fraternal organizations.

Mr. Wilson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Vivian M. Wilson, and a son, Richard. Funeral services will be held from his late residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with full Masonic honors. Interment will be in Rock Creek cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

Dear is the grave where my father is laid.
Sweet is the memory which never shall fade.
Flowers may wither, leaves fade and die,
Others may forget you, but never will I.

Oh, God, what a weight of sorrow
Must a lonely one bear!
The silent room, the empty bed,
His devoted friend, MARGARET FAIR.

BROWN. Dear is the memory of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. SARAH BROWN, who departed this life September 13, 1920.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.
I do miss him, no one can ever tell.
A DEVOTED DAUGHTER, ELEANOR BAKER.

COMPTON. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, ELMER A. COMPTON (nee Waples), taken from us 10 years ago today, September 13, 1910. HER FAMILY.

COOK. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, JAMES H. COOK, who departed this life 10 years ago today, September 13, 1910.

Our thoughts are always wandering
To the grave so far away
Where our dear father is lying
In his peaceful and lonely grave.

The lingering hope that fills our life,
That we shall meet you, dear father,
When we are passed away.

HADDIGAN. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, ELEANOR M. M. HADDIGAN, who departed this life 10 years ago today, September 13, 1910.

Sad and sudden was the call.
And wept with sorrow tongue cannot tell.
At the loss of our darling father we loved so well.

THE ANGELS HAVE CALLED OUR DARLING
AND HE HAS GONE HOME TO REST.
His suffering now is over,
And God's will is always best.

My thoughts are always wandering
To the grave so far away
Where our dear father is lying
In his peaceful and lonely grave.

My dear father, I miss you so,
And I hope you are at home,
For I am sure you are,
And I hope you are at home.

HEARNS. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, ROSA HEARNS, who departed this life two years ago today, September 15, 1918.

Two years have passed, dear mother, our hearts are still sore.
As time goes on we miss you more;
Your memory is as sweet today
As in the hour you passed away.

HER SON AND DAUGHTERS, ELSIE, ELEANOR, MARGARET, LEBRON.

HOLMES. LOVE. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear daughter, RUTH NIAMO HOLMES, who departed this life 10 years ago today, September 13, 1910, and my devoted sister, MARTHA LOVE, who departed this life July 2, 1910.

God needed two more angels
Amidst his shining band,
And so he best with loving smile
And clasped my darling daughter and sister.

THEIR LOVING MOTHER AND SISTER,
MAGGIE HOLMES.

HUTCHINS. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, THELMA HUTCHINS, who departed this life three years ago today, September 13, 1917.

FATHER, ELIA, DOLLIE AND OLGA.

TAYLOR. In loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, JAMES TAYLOR, who departed this life four years ago today, September 13, 1916.

Death has taken my dear son
From my home and fond embrace.
But the hour of joy is coming.
When I shall see him face to face.

MOTHER AND SISTER.

TAYLOR. In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, JANE TAYLOR, who departed this life three years ago today, September 13, 1917.

If I had seen her at the last
And held her dying hand,
Or heard her last sigh from her heart,
I would not feel so lonely now.

"Till not be long, my journey here
Each broken sigh and falling tear
Will soon be gone,
And all will be a cloudless sky.

HER DEVOTED DAUGHTER, ELENORA TURNER.

VERMILLION. A token of love and esteem
To our dear brother and sister,
NORVAL HARRISON VERMILLION, who was called in France two years ago yesterday, September 12, 1918.

WHITE. In loving remembrance of my dear husband, WILLIAM H. WHITE, who died two years ago today, September 13, 1918.

The happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still we hold,
But death has left a sadness
This world can never fill.

HIS LOVING WIFE.

"New" Shoes—for your Old Ones!

You remember the old Arabian Nights story about Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp. He was one of our first advertisers when he shouted "New Lamps for Old Ones!"

Modern "Shoe Hospital"

We take your old shoes and actually rebuild them! We put on entire new soles that look as if they just came out of a shoe factory.

We reshape and refinish the uppers almost "like new." And when these shoes come back to you they are, for all practical purposes, "new" shoes. For the original comfort and shapeliness has been restored and months of extra service have been built in.

Many of these wonder fables of our childhood have a habit of becoming accomplished facts in the science of today. You find a notable instance of it in sending your worn shoes to be mended at our

The appearance of these "re-built" shoes is such that it often takes an expert to detect that they have been worn.

Of course, this is a very extraordinary sort of shoe-mending—different and better in every way from the usual cobbling.

And if you have worn-shoes left over from last Season that can be thus restored to usefulness—at possibly 1-4 to 1-5 of what new shoes would cost—it is well worth investigating!
